

C-Scope

A reflection on the partnership – the innovations and the cross-cultural experience

Flagship project

Capturing the maritime spirit of the programme

Delivery against key maritime policy objectives

Stakeholder engagement key to success

How successful has C-Scope been from a JTS perspective?

- C-SCOPE has turned cross-border exchange possibilities into concrete cross-border successes.
- Integration of the project outcomes into regional/national developments e.g. North Sea MSP position paper
- Example of Programme's achievement towards the EU Integrated Maritime Policy.

What were the innovative elements to this project?

- Stakeholder participation prevalent throughout the project
- Establishment of the Belgian Coastal Forum based on “The Dorset Model”
- Example of Programme’s achievement towards the EU Integrated Maritime Policy.
- The development of the two planning tools iCOAST and Flemish Coastal Explorer

Project's strengths

- Successful in getting Regional, National, European and International recognition for its tools/strategies.
- Tight-knit partnership, worked very well together.
- Although difficult to put in place at the beginning, the project has developed good communication and dissemination actions.

What does the future hold for C-Scope?

- Some key challenges...

How to further embed C-SCOPE results in regional strategies and developments?

How to make sure that C-SCOPE tools will be sustained?

- Follow-on project? C-SCOPE II?
